Letter of Gerrit Smith,

ON THE PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES.

MR. WM. GOODELL, New-York—
MY DEAR SIR;—Your letter is before me. You would have me publicly contradict the reports that I intend to vate for Col. Fremont,-But what is my vote more than any other man's vote! And how can I speak publicly of it without being, or at least appearing to be, conceited? For nothing do I regret these reports more than for the necessity which they seem to lay me under to reply to them.

It is true, that I desire Col. Fremont's success Zuinst Mr. Fillinore and Mr. Buchanan And any should I not? His private character is as fair as theirs. I am glad, that in this respect they are all unexceptionable. His telents are of a high order. If not as high as theirs, they are, nevertheless, such as eminently fit him for both ewil and military rule. Is he interior to them in learning? He probably is—for, compared with them, he is a young man. But, young stake Were of such importance, that he could as he is, he has given ample proofs of sound not refrain from taking an active part in the scholarship and broad knowledge. Is it thought necessary that the President should be a Protestant? I see not why it should be. With me it is all one whether the candidate is a Roman from the side-issues to PRINCIPLES He Catholic of a Protestant, a foreigner of a mathen compared the Democracy of the days of tive. But Col. Fremont is a Protestant-and Washington, to the Democracy of the present the lie to the contrary is as base and taked a lie; as was ever manufactured by lying politis cians Has Col. Fremont done less than Mr. the Revolutionary Fathers,-who declared that Buchanan or Mr. Fillmore for his country !every man is entitled to enjoy life, liberty, and He has done much more-and I love to see it the pursuit of happiness, -- to the spirit which awaken the enthusiastic gratitude of his countrymen. Not to be grateful for what his unsurpassed enterprise, energy, and hardthood have accomplished would betray a strange insensibility to uncommon merit.
